The Conſiderations on M. de Grimaldo's Circular Letter, &c. Concluded.

" 'TIS from the ſame Source that he draws his " other Lights concerning the Affairs of Com- " machio, Mirandola, and Mantua, which he expoſes in " his Manner; and treats at the ſame time, the Aulick " Council as Cheats for authorizing the Uſurpation. " It is true indeed, as he ſays, but in a Sence quite con- " trary to his; that the Approaches are made on all " Sides, and that if the Princes of Europe, who have " ſo much Intereſt not to ſuffer this Spectacle, do not " take convenient Meaſures, Italy is upon the Point " of its entire Ruin. But it reſts to be known what " theſe convenient Meaſures are, Monſ. de Beretti " Landi does not ſpeak upon them in explicite " Terms. He chuſes rather to refer himſelf to the " Repreſentations that have been made thereupon to " the King of Great Britain, on the Part of the Duke " of Anjou. But he does not diſſemble, that accord- " ing to him, and according to what he finds in his In- " ſtructions, the End that ought to be propos'd in it, " is to eſtabliſh an Equality of Power between the " Emperour and that Prince. It is, ſays he, that " Equilibrium which was declared for in the laſt War, " and his Majeſty demands whither it be true, that " that Equilibrium is obtained, and if what has been " done has not rather contributed to augment the " Strength of one Prince, who in all his Steps has no " other Object than the ſingle Intereſt of his own Ag- " grandizement, and who by all that appears, will " make little Difficulty of beginning by even thoſe to " whom he is moſt oblig'd. This judicious Reflection " apparently reſpects the two maritime Powers, and " inſinuates, that it will be their Wiſdom and Intereſt " to labour together in proper Remedies to ſecure " that Equilibrium. And thereupon Monſ. de Beretti " Landi advertizes his Britannick Majeſty to remem- " ber the Advantages that England has gain'd by the " two Treaties made at Madrid after the Peace of U- " trecht, and many other important and effective De- " monſtrations. And as to Meſſieurs the States, he has " Orders from the Duke of Anjou moſt agreeable for " them. It is, that being ſatisfied in the Conduct of " their Lordſhips, and applauding the Regards they " have had for him, he will not fail on his ſide, to " facilitate their Commerce, to protect them, and to " have all their Intereſts as much at Heart as his own. " For the reſt, their Lordſhips may pleaſe to learn " from him, that notwithſtanding the Reaſons afore- " ſaid, the Duke of Anjou having conſider'd, that the " Winter is not proper for Expeditions at Sea, that his " Projects againſt the Kingdom of Naples are not yet " ripe; and that his Meaſures for lighting up the Fire " in the very Heart of Italy are not yet ready; he is " willing, to ſhew his Moderation, to content himſelf " at preſent with the Invaſion of Sardignia, to give " Time and Place to the Potentates of Europe to think " of Expedients that may ſecure the Tranquility of " Italy.

" This is in Subſtance, and even in proper Terms, " the Contents of the Memorial of Monſ. Beretti Lan- " di. It has been impoſſible ſometimes not to make " uſe of Irony in the Analyſis we have been oblig'd " to make of it, and not to return alſo in ſome Places " the injurious Expreſſions he has made uſe of. We " have begun ſeriouſly, and we have ended in the ſame " Manner; for the Affair is in it ſelf but too ſerious. " There has been ſeen in our time Invaſions more im- " portant than that of Sardignia; but there has none " been ſeen that I know of, where ſo many different " Regards have been deſpiſed. The Injury ariſing " from it does not ſtop at the Emperour and the Em- " pire, who are ill uſed in it; it paſſes directly to the " moſt Chriſtian King, whoſe Great Grandfather " made, and three times renew'd the Treaty of Neu- " trality, as well for himſelf as for the Duke of An- " jou his Grandſon; to the King of Great Britain, " Succeſſor of Queen Anne Mediatrix and Guarantee " of the Treaty; to the Pope, into whoſe Hands the " Promiſes have been ſince renew'd; to the Repub- " lick of Venice, who has ſeen it ſelf thereby deſti- " tute of an Aſſiſtance it ought to depend upon, and " was neceſſary to them; and in fine to all the Roman " Catholick Church, who ſees its Subſidies turn'd and " employ'd to a Diverſion in Favour of the Turks.

" Meſſieurs the States General ſeem at firſt leſs hurt " by it; as well becauſe they did not enterpoſe in the " Treaty of Neutrality, and did not charge themſelves " with the Guarantee of it; as becauſe their Provin- " ces are very diſtant from Sardignia and from Italy. " But the Intereſt of the Liberty and the Tranquility " of Europe includes in it ſelf a common Cauſe, which " it is impoſſible for them to ſeparate themſelves from. " If the Fire be kindled in Italy, it will ſpread it ſelf " further. Their Trade will ſuffer from it, and per- " haps their Security alſo. It is of extream Impor- " tance to prevent this Evil, and to hinder the Pro- " greſs before it gains too much Ground. The Am- " bition of the Duke of Anjou manifeſts it ſelf, his " Views are great. It is not to be believ'd that he was " willing to charge himſelf with the Reproach of a " Violation ſo ſhameful, and to have to account to " the Pope for ſo horrible a Failure, only for the Con- " queſt of Sardignia. He meditates a greater Deſign, " and it is only for obtaining that the more ſecurely, " that he has made himſelf Maſter of that Iſland. His " Ambaſſadour declares himſelf, that it is only for " the preſent that he would content himſelf with it. " He flatters himſelf that Sardignia will be left to him " by the Favour of a new Convention, which will be " depoſited in the Hands of the principal Potentates " of Europe, and ſhall have the ſame Duration. It is " not by Treaties that violating Princes are held. It is " by oppoſing with Force their Uſurpations, and by " conſtraining them immediately to let go their Prey. " An entire Satisfaction is due to the Emperour in this " Caſe. It belongs not to me to ſay how far he ought " to go. But in fine, we know the Rule of Right, " ante omnia ſpoliatus reſtituatur. That is alſo what is " imported by the 11th Article of the Treaty of U- " trecht in very expreſs Terms.

Yeſterday arriv'd a Mail from France

From the Paris Gazette, dated Jan. 29.

Madrid, Jan. 11. The King continues to enjoy perfect Health. The Officers of the Contractation are gone to Cadix, to make an Inventory of the Effects laden on board the Ships lately arrived from New Spain, the Honduras, and Vera Cruz, and to regulate the Indulto, in Order to diſcharge more expeditiouſly the Merchandize, which may be ſpoil'd by Delay; and Don Joſeph Patino is gone to terminate that Affair. The Cargo of the Fleet is very rich in Merchandize, and in Money, and al- tho' the Particulars are not yet certainly known, 'tis ſaid they have brought to the Value of Ten Millions Millions in Gold, Bars of Silver, and Piaſtres, beſides the Merchandize.

Naples, Dec. 18. The Regent Mazzachera, who is charg'd with the Receipt of the Monies ariſing from ſequeſtred Eſtates, and the Revenues of vacant Benefices, and thoſe poſſeſs'd by Foreigners, makes the Search after them with great Strictneſs. 'Tis ſaid he has already diſcover'd and ſequeſtred above 90000 Ducats, and hopes to find out much greater Sums. There is preſſing Need of extraordinary Succours at this time of extraordinary Expence, which has caus'd the Pay of the Officers and Troops to be kept back 5 ſo that ſeven Months Pay is due to them. Upon which Occaſion, there came one Evening laſt Week 40 Catalan Officers arm'd, to the Marquis Monleone, Lieutenant of the Royal Chamber, and demanded of him, that he would give Order to pay the ſeven Months due of their Appointments 5 which he promiſed to do the next Day, and executed it accordingly. Upon the like Complaints made by others againſt this Delay, the Viceroy has promis'd to write to Vienna. Many Tartanes have been taken up to go to Fiume, to embark the German Regiments which are expected there, and they will be convoy'd by the Ship St. Leopold.

Rome, Jan. 4. The Pope continues in his Reſolution to take the Journey to our Lady's at Loretto the firſt fine Weather, and Orders are ſent to the Prelates who have the Inſpection of the Roads, to make Preparations, and to tax the Proprietors of the Lands in Proportion to the Expence. The Marquis Davia is brought out of the Caſtle of St. Angelo, and the Monaſtry of S. Peter in Vincola is given him for his Priſon, with Prohibition ever to ſtir out of it upon the Penalty of 6000 Crowns. The Nephew of the Sieur Pompeo Aldrovandi, Nuncio in Spain, having been named to carry the Hat to Cardinal Alberoni, and being arriv'd at Bononia, ſtops there till further Order.

Paris, Jan. 29. On the 26th the Deputies of the Parliament had Audience of the King, to whom they were conducted by the Marquis de Dreux Grand Maſter of Ceremonies, and the Sieur Granges Maſter of Ceremonies, and preſented by the Marquis de la Vrilhere Secretary of State. The Sieur de Meſmes Firſt Preſident made the Speech with a great deal of Eloquence, and explain'd the Subject of the Deputation. His Majeſty expreſs'd great Goodneſs towards the Parliament, and promis'd to let them know his Intentions.

We have Advice from Gironne, by Letters of the 11th of this Month, that on the 9th, about 150 Miquelets being come out of their uſual Retreats in the Mountains, advanc'd towards the City, with eleven of their Chiefs. Their Deſign not being at firſt known, ſome Cannon-ſhot were fired upon them, and the Troops advanc'd to attack them; but when they were advanc'd within Muſket ſhot, they diſplay'd a White Flag, and declar'd they came to ſupplicate the King's Clemency, accepting the Amneſty which had been granted for thoſe that would Surrender to ſerve in the Troops. They immediately threw down their Arms, and enter'd the City, aſſuring that the greateſt Part of the reſt would follow their Example.

From the Paris News Letter.

Paris, Jan. 29. About 12 Days ago the Biſhop of Apt in Provence, notwithſtanding the Prohibition and Declaration of the King, caus'd to be publiſh'd and fix'd up in his Dioceſe, a Mandate in favour of the Conſtitution; and afterwards retir'd into one of the Villages of his Dioceſe towards Avignon.

The Deputation which the Parliament made the 26th is extreamly applauded, for the Fine, Magnificent, and Reſpectful manner of it. Their Remonſtrances turn'd upon the State-Bills, upon the General Receivers, Plurality of Offices, the Rents of the Town-Houſe and the Franc Salée: There was but a Word or two, and thoſe very reſpectful, upon the Councils, and upon the Ancient Order of the Government of the Finances.

'Tis reported that the Seals are taken from Monſ. the Chancellour and given to M. d'Argueſon Lieutenant General of Police, who, 'tis alſo ſaid, is made Preſident of the Council of the Finances. Other Alterations are made in the Councils.

The pleaſant Odoriferous Tincture for the Breath, Teeth and Gums, a few Drops of which inſtantly makes the moſt offenſive Breath ſmell incomparably fine and charming, and a very ſhort time perfectly cures, ſo that a diſagreeable Breath will never return; it certainly makes the blackeſt and moſt foul Teeth extreamly white, clean and beautiful at once uſing, infallibly preſerves them from decaying, and thoſe a little decay'd, from becoming worſe, abſolutely cures the Scurvy in the Gums, tho' never ſo inveterate, cauſing the Fleſh to grow up to the Teeth again, when almoſt eaten quite away, and infallibly faſtens looſe Teeth to Admiration, even in old People, who too often falſly think their Age to be the Occaſion. In a word, for moſt delicately perfuming and quickly curing all ill-ſcented Breath, for immediately making the blackeſt Teeth moſt excellently white, certainly faſtening them when looſe, and effectually preſerving them from rotting or decaying, and aſſuredly curing the Scurvy in the Gums, it has not its equal in the World, as great Numbers of the beſt Quality and Gentry have experienc'd. Is ſold only at Mrs. Osborn's, a Toy-ſhop, at the Roſe and Crown under St. Dunſtan's Church in Fleet-ſtreet, at 5 s. 6 d. a Bottle, (containing enough to laſt a conſiderable Time) with Directions.
